PREFACE.

AFTER some little unavoidable delay, we are finally enabled to present to the clergy and laity of the Methodist Episcopal Church of this city, the first volume of our "ANNUAL COMPENDIUM OF METHODISM IN CHICAGO." The character and value of the work will be more fully understood and better appreciated by a perusal of its pages than by any description we might insert here.

It will be seen at a glance that the compilation of such a work as is herewith presented is attended with no ordinary amount of difficulty, and but for the kind co-operation of the clergy, who have furnished most of the facts and figures, it would have been almost an impossibility. Our thanks are due, also, to Honorable GRANT GOODRICH, for furnishing us with the concise and accurate detail of the early history of Methodism in Chicago, which appears on page nineteen.

As for the typographical appearance, the engravings, etc., we have nothing whatever to say, but will permit the book to speak for itself. Otherwise from that, in judging of its merits, we trust our readers will bear in mind the fact, that this is, to the best of our knowledge and belief, the first volume of the kind that has ever been issued, and that, therefore, whatever defects may appear to the critical reader, are those which naturally result from our inexperience in a new and untried field of effort.

We hope, Providence permitting, on or about the fifteenth day of December, next, to be able to publish the second volume of our "ANNUAL," free from defects of any kind, and so much improved in the quantity and quality of its contents, as to commend itself to the attention and patronage of all who are interested in the progress and prosperity of our branch of the Christian faith, in this part of the world.

With these preliminary remarks, we submit to you this, the first volume of our "ANNUAL COMPENDIUM OF METHODISM IN CHICAGO."

General Rules of the M.E. Church.

In the latter end of the year 1739, eight or ten persons came to Mr. Wesley, in London, who appeared to be deeply convinced of sin, and earnestly groaning for redemption. They desired, as did two or three more the next day, that he would spend some time with them in prayer, and advise them how to flee from the wrath to come, which they saw continually hanging over their heads. That he might have more time for this great work, he appointed a day when they might all come together; which from thenceforward they did every week, namely, on Thursday, in the evening. To these, and as many more as desired to join with them (for their number increased daily), he gave those advices from time to time which he judged most needful for them; and they always concluded their meeting with prayer suited to their several necessities.

This was the rise of the UNITED SOCIETY, first in Europe, and then in America. Such a society is no other than "a company of men having the form and seeking the power of godliness, united in order to pray together, to receive the word of exhortation, and to watch over one another in love, that they may help each other to work out their salvation."

That it may the more easily be discerned whether they are indeed working out their own salvation, each society is divided into smaller companies, called classes, according to their respective places of abode. There are about twelve persons in a class, one of whom is styled the Leader. It is his duty:—1. To see each person in his class once a week at least; in order, (1) To inquire how their souls prosper. (2) To advise, reprove, comfort, or exhort, as occasion may require. (3) To receive what they are willing to give toward the relief of the preachers, church and poor. (This part refers to towns and cities, where the poor are generally numerous and church expenses considerable.)

2.—To meet the ministers and the stewards of the society once a week; in order, (1) To inform the minister of any that are sick, or of any that walk disorderly, and will not be reproved. (2) To pay the stewards what they have received of their several classes in the week preceding.

There is only one condition previously required of those who desire admission into these societies, "a desire to flee from the wrath to come, and to be saved from their sins." But wherever this is really fixed in the soul, it will be shown by its fruits. It is therefore expected of all who continue therein, that they should continue to evidence their desire of salvation:—First, by doing no harm, by avoiding evil of every kind, especially that which is most generally practiced, such as:—The taking of the name of God in vain; the profaning the day of the Lord, either by doing ordinary work therein, or by buying or selling. Drunkenness, buying or selling spirituous liquors, or drinking them, unless in cases of extreme necessity. Slaveholding; buying or selling slaves. Fighting, quarreling, brawling, brother going to law with brother; returning evil for evil, or railing for railing; the using many words in buying or selling. The buying or selling goods that have not paid the duty. The giving or taking things on usury, that is, unlawful interest. Uncharitable or unprofitable conversation; particularly speaking evil of magistrates or ministers. Doing to others as we would not that they should do unto us. Doing what we know is not for the glory of God; as the putting on of gold and costly apparel; the taking of such diversions as cannot be used in the name of the Lord Jesus; the singing of those songs, or reading those books which do not tend to the knowledge or love of God. Softness and needless self-indulgence. Laying up treasures upon earth. Borrowing without a probability of paying; or taking up goods without a probability of paying for them. It is expected of all who continue in these societies that they should continue to evidence their desire of salvation:—Secondly, by doing good; by being in every kind merciful after their power; as they have opportunity, doing good of every possible sort, and, as far as possible, to all men; to their bodies, of the ability which God giveth, by giving food to the hungry, by clothing the naked, by visiting or helping them that are sick or in prison; to their souls, by instructing, reproving, or exhorting all we have any intercourse with; trampling under foot that enthusiastic doctrine that "we are not to do good unless our hearts be free to it;" by doing good, especially to them that are of the household of faith, or groaning so to be; employing them preferably to others, buying one of another, helping each other in business, and so much the more because the world will love its own and them only; by all possible diligence and frugality that the Gospel be not blamed; by running with patience the race which is set before them, denying themselves and taking up their cross daily; submitting to bear the reproach of Christ, to be as the filth and offscouring of the world; and looking that men should say all manner of evil of them falsely for the Lord's Sake. It is expected of all who desire to continue in these societies that they should continue to evidence their desire of salvation:—Thirdly, by attending upon all the ordinances of God; such are the public worship of God; the ministry of the word, either read or expounded; the supper of the Lord; family and private prayer; searching the Scriptures; fasting or abstinence.

These are the General Rules of our Societies; all which we are taught of God to observe, even in his written word, which is the only rule, and the sufficient rule, both of our faith and practice. And all these we know his Spirit writes on truly awakened hearts. If there be any among us who observes them not, who habitually breaks any of them, let it be known unto them who watch over that soul, as they who must give an account. We will admonish him of the error of his ways. We will bear with him for a season. But if then he repent not, he hath no more place among us. We have delivered our own souls.

THE CHICAGO

ATHENÆUM

AND INSTITUTION FOR

CO-OPERATIVE EDUCATION,

65 WASHINGTON STREET.

The Athenæum has day and evening classes in English Language and Literature, Mathematics, Penmanship, Elocution, Phonography, Book-keeping, Drawing, Latin, German, French, Italian, Spanish, Vocal and Instrumental Music, and Art.

It has a regular DAY-SCHOOL of individual study for both children and adults. It gives special attention to industrial education. Its rates of tuition are very low. It has a good Gymnasium, and its new building will have the finest one in the country, affording every kind of exercise. For special education in any department, its opportunities are unrivaled.

The Athenæum is building a new and very fine building on Dearborn Street, opposite the Tremont House, which it will occupy about March 1. For further information, call at the office.

FERD. W. PECK, Sec'y. HENRY BOOTH, Pres.

History of Methodism in Chicago.

By Hon. GRANT GOODRICH.

THE DESIRE not to be forgotten on earth is one of the strongest feelings of our nature. Men know that they must perish from the earth—they seek to live in their deeds. Crimes, however great, toils, however severe, are held cheap sacrifice for an immortality on earth, to one poor mortal. Though the Christian seeks a deathless immortality at the right hand of God, and may be careless of the remembrance of men, yet his good deeds are made to live after him; and it is right that the remembrance of our benefactors, who have gone before, be preserved for our respect and imitation. It cannot but be profitable, that while surrounded by privileges large and rich, we be reminded that we enjoy the fruits of the labors of the pious dead, and of the honored living; that the tree under which we rest in such pleasant security, was not planted without the labor and toils, the prayers and efforts of those who preceded us.

We are not able to determine certainly when the first Methodist preacher visited Chicago, but there seems no great doubt that the first who regularly proclaimed the Gospel here was the Reverend Jesse Walker, who was emphatically the apostle of the Northwest. He followed the first adventurous pioneers to Illinois and Missouri, sharing their hardships and dangers, bearing with him, and offering to them the salvation of Christ.

He was appointed a Missionary to Illinois in 1806. He was accompanied to this mission first by the Rev. Wm. McKendree, afterwards Bishop. They traversed the then almost unbroken and untrodden wilderness, which separated the scattered settlements in Illinois from Kentucky. They performed the journey on horseback, subsisting mostly on the game they killed, and sleeping under the covering of the skies. McKendree, after a short time spent in preaching and arranging the field of labor for Walker, returned and left him alone to pursue his holy mission. The inhabitants received him kindly, and many of these simple pioneers of civilization heard his message with joy and became the subjects of a saving knowledge of the gospel. Other preachers from time to time were sent to his aid, and the work enlarged until it embraced most of the settlements of the then Territory of Illinois.

He afterward visited and made Missouri a part of the field of his operations. In 1812 he was made Presiding Elder of the Illinois District, which then embraced all of Illinois and Missouri, which position he held until 1819, when he was sent on a mission to new and destitute fields.

After wandering about from place to place and preaching the gospel of salvation everywhere faithfully and successfully, we find him, in the year 1831, residing in Chicago, it being included in his missionary field. In his absence, the Rev. Wm. Lee, then a local preacher, though formerly a member of the Illinois Conference, and at the time United States blacksmith to the Indians, filled his place. Our best information is, that these two men, and the then wife of Col. R. J. Hamilton, were the first resident Methodists in Chicago. Mrs. Hamilton was a most pious and devoted Christian, and died in great peace in the spring of 1834. In 1833, Father Noble and Brother Charles Wisencraft arrived in Chicago, who immediately commenced prayer and other religious meetings.

At this time, the society had no house of worship, but used for that purpose a room, in turn with the Baptists and Presbyterians, on the corner of Water and Wells Streets.

In August, 1833, the first quarterly meeting in Chicago was held at Watkins' School-House, corner North LaSalle and Water Streets; John Sinclair, Presiding Elder, and Jesse Walker, Missionary. There were also present at the first communion, Wm. Lee, Local Preacher, and his wife, Chas. Wisencraft and wife, Wm. Whitehead, Local Preacher, Mrs. R. J. Hamilton, and Mrs. Harriet Harmon. These constituted the entire Methodist family in Chicago, who sat down at the eucharistic feast to declare their remembrance and faith in the sacrificial death of Christ their Savior. Some of them live to see this day, and are made glad.

In the spring of 1834, the first regular class was formed, and Charles Wisencraft was appointed Leader. Early in this year they met for worship in a log house belonging to an Indian Chief, named Billy Caldwell, and used as a Council House, on the north side of the river, near the corner of Franklin and Water Streets. Sometimes, however, meetings were held in what was called Ingersoll's Tavern, which stood on the west side of the river, between Lake and Fulton Streets. They often occupied a small building on the north side of the river, between LaSalle and Clark Streets, called Watkins' School-House.

In the spring of 1834, the Lord put it into the hearts of his people and their friends to build Him a house. It was commenced and carried on to completion by Brothers Whitehead and Stewart. It was set on the North Side, at the corner of Water and Clark Streets. It was small, but to them it was God's temple. The pulpit was supplied every Sabbath by Father Walker, or the local preachers. We ought not to neglect to state that Brothers Whitehead and Wisencraft held weekly prayer-meetings with the soldiers in Fort Dearborn.

During the summer of 1834, quite an accession was made to the church by the arrival of emigrants, who presented their letters, and in September of this year, the Rev. John T. Mitchell arrived, and took charge of the Chicago mission, by an appointment of the Illinois Conference. During this conference year considerable accessions were had by letter, and a few on probation. At the ensuing conference, by our own request, Chicago was struck from the list of missions, and John T. Mitchell appointed the preacher in charge.

In the spring of 1836, an effort was made to raise funds to purchase a lot and build a house of worship on the south side of the river. At the sale of canal lots in June of that year, the lot on which Clark Street Church now stands was purchased under an arrangement with Dr. Robinson Tripp, by which the church obtained the north 130 feet, and the sum of $1,100 was paid on it; but the pecuniary embarrassments which soon ensued, ended all hopes of building.

At the conference of 1836, the Rev. Otis T. Curtis succeeded John T. Mitchell. In the general commercial crash which succeeded, few of the members escaped. There were some who so grieved at the loss of their wealth, that they turned their backs on God, despising the riches at his right hand. The integrity of these was not proof against the sore trials of the times; but, above all, the foul and ignominious fall of the presiding elder, W. Mack—the outbreaking crimes and scandalous conduct of some of the members, who had been active and prominent in the church, fell in quick succession, with stunning weight upon the faithful few, and with their pecuniary embarrassment, threatened to overwhelm them with shame and scatter them in confusion. There has never been a time in the history of Methodism in Chicago when false brethren, wicked men, and tempting devils seemed so near the accomplishment of its destruction as at this period. The faithful ones felt they were the scoff and the scorn of the wicked and the reproach of the good. Sorrow and shame were written on the faces of all who revered religion and loved the church. They were abashed in the presence of the good and of the bad. Deep was the humility in which God sunk his children for their want of fidelity against the allurements of worldly wealth. He took his fan in his hand, blessed be his name, not to sweep away, but to purge and purify his church.

At the conference of 1837, in answer to the prayers of his children for a Joshua to lead them out of the wilderness, God sent the Rev. Peter R. Borien, of blessed memory, whose name never falls upon our ear that an holy influence comes not with his memory.

During the winter of 1837-8 quite a number were converted—some of whom are with us still—but compared with the succeeding year the work was limited. At the conference of 1838 he was returned to this charge, and, owing to our poverty, John Clark, our then Presiding Elder, procured for us a missionary appropriation for that year. The little church was removed from the north side of the river to the present location of Clark Street Church, and was enlarged to double its size.

In December, a revival commenced, deep, widespread and powerful. From this time until April, Brother Borien held meetings every night, and frequently during the day. Night after night, with tireless zeal, he poured forth the arrows of God's truth, all flaming with love divine, and day after day he followed the smitten sinner to his home, into his shop, and even pursued him to the haunts of dissipation, and with pleadings, entreaties and a yearning love that seemed almost resistless, besought him in Christ's stead to be reconciled to God. The house, from first to last, was crowded to its utmost capacity, and the altar was thronged with inquiring and penitent souls. The Spirit of God seemed to pervade the very atmosphere. Religion was the absorbing theme of thought and conversation in private and in public places. There were more than three hundred converted in our church, most of whom united with us, which was about one-tenth of the whole population.

But his Master had determined to call his faithful servant home—he was ripe for heaven, he had kept the faith, his course was finished, his crown was ready. Who that heard the last sermon which he preached will ever forget it in time or eternity, whether he shall reign with him in heaven, or wail with the damned in hell? Who shall dare to say that God in that hour did not permit his soul to catch some dying strains of that angelic music in which he was so soon to join? A day or two after he was laid upon his dying bed—his work was done—God took him. But though dead, he yet speaketh.

At the conference of 1839, the Rev. S. Stocking was appointed as pastor. In 1840-41, the Rev. Hooper Crews was stationed here. Prosperity and conversions attended both years of his administration. The house again became too small, and was enlarged to nearly double its former capacity.

In 1842, the Rev. N. P. Cunningham was appointed preacher in charge. The house was again becoming too small, and it was resolved to colonize in some other part of the city the succeeding year. With this view, in 1843, the Rev. Luke Hitchcock was appointed preacher in charge and the Rev. Abram Hanson, assistant. The lot on which old Canal Street Church (now Centenary) stood, was purchased, and a house erected. During the winter, the health of Brother Hitchcock failed, and he was compelled to leave his charge. The Presiding Elder, Hooper Crews, then residing at Southport, removed to this city, and with Brother Hanson supplied the two congregations. About seventy-five members went to Canal Street but it was determined the two societies should constitute one charge, and the leaders and stewards meet in one board. At the conference of 1844, under the same arrangement, the Rev. Wm. M. D. Ryan was transferred from Ohio, and made preacher in charge, and the Rev. Warren Oliver was appointed assistant. During the winter of 1844-45, a very general revival occurred. Clark Street became crowded beyond the convenient capacity of the house. It had been enlarged and patched up so many times, it was found there was danger that it might fall. Brother Ryan urged the necessity of building a permanent house of worship. To this end his industry and efforts were unceasing. After considerable deliberation, it was finally resolved to sell a sufficient number of the seats in the new house to cover the cost, at the appraisal of the trustees, who contracted for the erection of the building, and the finishing of all but the basement, $6,000 payable on the completion of the contract, and the balance in one year, the house to be 98 ft. 6 in. by 66 ft. The old church was removed on to the lot on the corner of Dearborn and Madison Streets, and occupied until the erection of the new building. In November, 1845, the house was dedicated. From the amount raised at the dedication, the sale of seats, and other means, the trustees were able to meet present demands on the contract. The whole cost was about $12,000, and it was all paid as it became due.

In 1845, Canal Street was separated from Clark Street, and the Rev. Sias Bolles appointed their preacher. Brother Ryan was returned to Clark Street. In 1846, the Rev. Chauncey Hobart succeeded him, and Sias Bolles was reappointed to Canal Street. Previous to the conference of 1847, a number of members determined to form another church on the north side of the river. They purchased two lots on Indiana Street and erected a very neat chapel, and solicited a preacher at the ensuing conference. In 1847, the Rev. Philo Judson was stationed at Clark Street, the Rev. O. Bronson at Canal Street, and the Rev. Freeborn Haney at Indiana Street. In 1848, Rev. Richard Haney was appointed to Clark Street, Rev. R. A. Blanchard to Canal Street, and the Rev. John Devoe to Indiana Street. The only change made in 1849 was that of the substitution of Rev. Zadock Hall at Indiana Street for Devoe.

About the year 1852, the Book Depository and the Northwestern Christian Advocate were authorized to be established in this city.

From 1850 to the present time the history of Methodism in this city becomes identified with, and constitutes that of the individual church societies, and will be found in connection with them in their respective places in this volume.

According to the official report of the secretary of the conference which met in Princeton, Illinois, Wednesday, October 10, 1877, the list of churches organized in the city number twenty-one, with a total membership of over five thousand souls. The total valuation of church property is about $758,000.

With this showing before us, let us see to it then, that we sustain with a liberal hand and steady zeal all the great interests of our church, and maintain and stand by all the great principles and essential features of her economy. Let the old and the young love the church, our God-given mother, which is nursing and rearing her children for kings and priests to God. She is the bride of our blessed Lord; dear to Him as the apple of his eye; He bought her by his death agonies on Calvary; washes out with his own blood the guilty stains that sin has made in all her obedient children, and in eternity will clothe them with spotless white and eternal life! Then, "let not death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor length, nor depth, nor any other creature, be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus, Our Lord."

HISTORY.

The history of Methodism in this city from its incipiency in 1831 till about the year 1850, is really that of Clark Street or the First Church, and will be found under the heading "HISTORY OF METHODISM IN CHICAGO," by Hon. Grant Goodrich, in another part of this volume. Below will be found a continuation of the list of those pastors who have served this charge since that time, and following that, an outline sketch of the principal events that have marked her history as an individual church society.

In 1850, Stephen P. Keyes was sent to this charge, and in 1852 was followed by John Clark, who died toward the close of his second year (July 11th), greatly beloved. Hooper Crews, former presiding elder, then had charge from 1854 to 1856. James Baume then served from 1856 to 1858. Bro. W. F. Stewart succeeded him in 1858. O. H. Tiffany came next, remaining two years, from 1860 to 1862. During three months of Dr. Tiffany's term, the church enjoyed the services of the late Dr. T. M. Eddy, whose loss was so keenly felt, and whose decease was so deeply mourned throughout the entire church. The year 1862-63 was filled by F. D. Hemenway. From 1863 to 1866, Charles H. Fowler, who was the first man ever returned for the third year, was the instrument of the accomplishment of no ordinary good. W. C. Dandy was sent to serve the church in 1866-67; and from 1867 to 1869, John A. Gray was in charge, serving the whole of his first year, and but half of his second, and resigning, was substituted by J. M. Reid, who filled out the remaining six months of the second year. Succeeding Gray came W. H. Daniels, who served a term of three years, from 1869 to 1872.

He was followed by H. W. Thomas in 1872, who was succeeded in 1875 by S. A. W. Jewett. In 1876, two pastors were sent by conference to this charge, and are the present incumbents of the office—M. M. Parkhurst and W. A. Spencer.

At a meeting of the society in October, 1846, all the then trustees tendered their resignations, which were accepted, and Judge Grant Goodrich, William Wheeler, Jabez K. Botsford, George Reynolds, and Amos S. Seeley were elected to constitute a new board. In 1851, Orrington Lunt and J. C. Outhet were elected trustees to fill the vacancies of Bros. Reynolds and Seeley, and the other members of the board were re-elected. The same board were re-elected in 1855, without change. At this time and thereafter the question of the improvement of the lot began to be considered with a view to retain a place of worship in the heart of the city, and at the same time make the valuable lot available for church extension purposes. Through much consideration and prayer, all views were finally harmonized upon a plan to erect a business block, the lower portion of which should be devoted to commercial and business purposes, for revenue, and the upper portions to a place of worship. A charter for this purpose was obtained by act of the legislature, Feb. 14, 1857, by which the name of the society was changed to "The First Methodist Episcopal Church of Chicago." By provisions of this charter the trustees were authorized to borrow money to erect the building, and the revenues were to be devoted, first, to paying the debts incurred in erecting the building, and then for the purpose of buying lots and building other churches in the city. Under this charter the board of trustees was enlarged to seven, and on the 9th of August, 1858, Mr. J. C. Outhet having resigned, Grant Goodrich, J. K. Botsford, William Wheeler, and O. Lunt were re-elected, and J. V. Farwell, J. W. Waughop and John Hayward, were added to them. Under the provisions of their charter, the trustees borrowed fifty thousand dollars of the London and Liverpool Fire and Life Insurance Company, and twenty thousand dollars upon bonds guaranteed by themselves individually. With these funds a building, from plans of E. Burling, was erected in 1858, at a cost of seventy thousand dollars.

The years immediately following were years of great business depression, and it required the utmost care and economy of the trustees to pay interest, taxes, insurance, and keep even, without paying the principal of the debt, or appropriating money to new church enterprises. The annual and semi-annual reports of the treasurer show constant advances made by himself, to meet maturing obligations. With less careful and faithful men to manage, the property would have been in great peril.

Having in view the great objects of their trust, as soon as the increase of their rents and diminishing debt would warrant, the trustees began to turn their attention to the cry of struggling churches. In February, 1865, before the first twenty thousand dollars was paid on the building, we find them resolving, in response to an earnest appeal, that they would look with great favor upon the application of the West Indiana Street Church for aid, and that so soon as the lot bought on Indiana avenue (for what is now the Trinity congregation, and what was then a part of Clark Street) was paid for, and a parsonage bought for Clark Street, the application of the West Indiana Street Church should be first on the list.

From this time to the present nearly every Methodist society that has been organized in this city has received pecuniary aid, to a greater or lesser degree from the funds of this church. In all, over seventy thousand dollars had been paid to other churches in the city, before the great fire, for the purposes of church extension.

Under the modified charter of 1865, Grant Goodrich, William Wheeler, A. R. Scranton, J. K. Botsford, O. Lunt, J. W. Waughop, James G. Hamilton, John Hayward, and Robert Shephard were elected trustees. Few changes have occurred since. Albro E. Bishop in place of Robert Shephard, J. V. Farwell in place of O. Lunt, and Charles Busby in place of J. V. Farwell, and at the commencement of the year 1873, R. F. Queal in place of James G. Hamilton, are all. Substantially the same men who cared for the business interests of the church thirty years ago are still influential in its care and control. William Wheeler is president and J. K. Botsford is treasurer of the board, as they were twenty-eight years ago. Ten days after the great fire the trustees met on the ruins, and a committee was appointed to procure plans for examination of the board. To their great gratification the trustees found the careful treasurer had largely placed the insurance on the building and organ in solvent companies. On November 10, the trustees resolved to re-erect their building with a stone exterior. On April 5, 1872, plans prepared by E. Burling & Co., architects, were adopted by the board, and on April 30, the principal contracts were let for its rebuilding.

Its cost was,	$120,000.00
The cost of the organ,	5,000.00
Funds to apply--
From insurance,	$65,591.68
From funds collected from abroad in excess of chapel fund,	10,000.00
	$75,591.68
Total debt,	$50,000.00

Thus, although sharing largely in the misfortunes of the city by fire, and money depression, still the church flourishes, and promises much increased usefulness for the future. It is now one of the most famous churches upon the continent, and enjoys a reputation for the spirit of enterprise peculiar to itself, not only American but transatlantic.

Her young men will soon be called to assume the responsibilities so long put upon, and so nobly, faithfully, and ably born by those who must, in the course of nature, soon resign their stewardship and pass over to render their account. These young men are fully adequate to the task. Let them be as true to the interests of their sacred charge as were their fathers, and if they prove not recreant to the solemn trust transmitted to their care, the future conduct of the church cannot fail to meet the smile of God's affectionate approbation, and the blessings of his unbounded goodness.

HISTORY.

THE MICHIGAN AVENUE M.E. CHURCH was first organized as a Mission about the last of the year 1867, under the auspices of the Chicago Mission and Sunday School Society. The lot, 100 feet on Indiana avenue between Thirty-second and Thirty-third streets, was donated by the Board of the First M.E. Church, and the building erected by the contributions of the society and of the different churches of the city, mainly through the efforts of the Rev. S. G. Lathrop, the City Missionary. It was then designated as the Indiana Avenue M.E. Mission, and the services were conducted in English and German, under the pastorate of Bro. Lathrop. During the years 1868 and 1869 the German service was abandoned, and the Sunday School turned over to the care of the Wabash Avenue M.E. Church and reported by them to the conference. The latter part of the conference year the pulpit service was under the care of Miner Raymond, D.D. Service was first held in a small room in the rear, which was furnished and dedicated by C. H. Fowler, D.D., about the last of 1867, being about 18x24 feet, and the main part of the chapel, about 35x60, was completed in the spring of 1868, and in time dedicated to the worship of God by C. H. Fowler, D.D. In the summer of 1869 the City Missionary Society, by an official action, turned the church and property over to the members then worshiping there, and it was organized as the Indiana Avenue M.E. Church, August 1, 1869, by the election of a Board of Stewards, as follows: S. W. Swift, D. Pride, Wycoff, Rose, Breasted, Hoffman, Elliot, and McGrew, the trustees of the First Church holding the property. At the Rock River Conference of 1869, the church applied for a pastor, and Rev. Hooper Crews was appointed pastor in charge, the first quarterly conference being held October 27, 1869. On the evening of August 31, 1870, the organization was duly completed by the election of a board of trustees as follows: S. W. Swift and Amos Mansfield to serve one year, Lemuel Richards and Frank D. Everett to serve two years, Henry S. Towle, Andrew H. Reeves, and Charles Busby to serve three years.

At the close of the conference year, October, 1870, Bro. Crews returned 94 members in full connection, 8 probationers, 126 Sunday-school scholars, 35 officers and teachers, and was succeeded by Robert D. Shepard.

In April, 1871, it was determined to enlarge the edifice, and finally, the present lot on Michigan Avenue, 100x146 feet, was purchased at $160 per front foot. The Indiana Avenue Chapel was sold to the Van Buren Street Methodist Church, and a new edifice commenced on Michigan Avenue, which was in process of erection at the time of the great Chicago fire. During the interim between the sale of the old building and the completion of the new one, the society worshiped in the Thirty-first Street Presbyterian Church. The basement was sufficiently completed to worship in during the month of December, 1871, and, finally, to the extent originally intended, so that it was ready and formally dedicated February 5, 1872, the Rev. C. H. Fowler again officiating in this service, and sufficient funds were pledged to lift the entire debt. At the meeting of the conference, October 1871, the pastor, Rev. R. D. Shepard, reported 152 members, 24 probationers, 36 Sunday-school officers and teachers, 217 scholars, and was returned for another year. At the conference of October, 1872, Bro. Shepard reported 201 members, 30 probationers, 36 Sunday-school officers and teachers, and 340 scholars. During this year the name was officially and legally changed to the Michigan Avenue M.E. Church. Bro. Shepard was returned for his third year, which being quite prosperous, and the basement seeming inadequate to the wants of the society, about the 1st of September, 1873, it was decided to finish the audience room, and complete the entire edifice. While this was in progress, the conference convened, and Bro. Shepard reported as follows: 217 members, 25 probationers, 33 Sunday-school officers and teachers, and 350 scholars. At the request of the society, Rev. J. W. Phelps was appointed its pastor.

The improvement commenced in 1873 was duly finished, and the building, completed and fully furnished, was dedicated to divine worship February 1, 1874, Rev. C. H. Fowler, D.D., again officiating in this service. Owing to the financial panic of the previous year, and the continued stringency of the money market, it was impossible to raise by subscriptions the entire cost of the property, and $3,500 was left to be provided for. The Wabash Avenue M.E. Church kindly gave to this society the pews and organ formerly in their old edifice, corner Wabash Avenue and Harrison Street.

At the meeting of the conference, October, 1874, the pastor reported 245 members, 15 probationers, 35 Sunday-school officers and teachers, and 390 scholars, and the Rev. M. M. Parkhurst was appointed to the charge.

Mr. Parkhurst was pastor of this church for two years, when in October, 1876, Rev. John Williamson was appointed to succeed him. The first year, just closed, of Mr. Williamson's ministry in this church was one of great success. He found at the beginning of the year 199 full members, after a diligent pruning of the records, and 16 probationers. At the close of his first year, Mr. Williamson reported 299 full members and 75 probationers—in all 374.

During Mr. Williamson's first year of pastoral incumbancy in this church, there was successfully begun a system of neighborhood cottage meetings, under the very efficient superintendency of Mr. R. F. Catterson. It is believed that these meetings afford an answer to the question: "How shall the churches evangelize the cities?"

ALFRED L. SEWELL, Publisher, Chicago.

A CURIOSITY.--SENT FREE.

As a historical curiosity we have prepared a quantity of Colored Album Picture Cards of "Old Abe," the War Eagle, which was carried alive along with the colors of the Eighth Wisconsin regiment in the late war. This picture has a history, as shown by the following extract from the official report of the last great Sanitary Fair for the sick and wounded soldiers, held at Chicago in 1865:

"A very original mode of raising money for the Fair 'was devised by Mr. Alfred L. Sewell, a Publisher in 'Chicago. Upon the history of 'Old Abe,' an eagle 'that had accompanied a Wisconsin regiment through 'the war, he based the idea of forming, for children, 'what he called the 'Army of the American Eagle.' 'Colored pictures were struck off, of this noble specimen 'of the bird of Jove. The child who paid ten cents for 'one of these was to be considered a private, while the 'investment of certain other small sums was graduated 'so as to secure the dignity of different commissions in 'the Army of the American Eagle. The children were 'charmed with the ingenious device, and gave such evi-'dence of their desire to aid the cause, that this little 'instrumentality alone netted the Fair the sum of six-'teen thousand three hundred and eight dollars and 'ninety-three cents ($16,308.93), which was more than 'was paid by any other department, and was nearly 'one-tenth of the entire profits of the Fair."

Any person who will send me a three cent stamp to pay expense of mailing, will receive free, by mail, one dozen of these fancy colored picture cards. They will be prized by your friends as a souvenir of what children and young folks can do.

Address, ALFRED L. SEWELL, Chicago.

SABBATH SCHOOL.

In the summer of 1855, when the Rev. Hooper Crews was the pastor of Clark Street M.E. Church, a Mission Sabbath School was organized in the Orphan Asylum, on Michigan avenue, near Twenty-second street, known as the Clark Street Mission. Its officers were: Superintendent, H. R. Cabery; Secretary, James Smale; Librarian, Geo. Smale, total membership, 60. In the month of August, 1856, the school was removed to the school house on Indiana Avenue, near Twenty-second street, and organized as St. Pauls M.E. Sabbath School. At the ensuing election in October, the officers elected were: Supt., H. R. Cabery; Sec., John Vreeland; Librarian, J. Geo. Smale; all of whom served the school faithfully until May, 1857, when Wm. Hoodless was elected Superintendent, and John Hayward, Assistant. The school building having been removed in December, 1859, the school was temporarily disbanded. Early in the year 1862, previous to the erection of the church on Indiana avenue and Twenty-fourth street, the school was reorganized in Calvary Presbyterian Church, corner Indiana avenue and Twenty-second street, as Trinity M.E. Church Sabbath School. John Hayward was elected Superintendent, and Mr. Frank Carley, Secretary, who served until November, 1863, when Mr. J. Spaulding was elected Superintendent.

The new place of worship having been completed and dedicated April, 10, 1864, the Sabbath School removed to its new home. In November, 1865, John W. Waughop was elected Superintendent. It was at this election that Mr. George F. Starkweather was elected organist, and served until 1877. Bro. J. W. Waughop, having labored successfully for three years, retired, and in November, 1868, Wm. Whitehead was called to fill his place. The church building proving to be too small for the increasing church and Sabbath School, was sold in 1870, and on Christmas day the school assembled in Prof. Faulhaber's hall, on Indiana avenue, near Twenty-third street. March 5, 1871, the hall was partially destroyed by fire, the school meeting with a serious loss by the destruction of its library, etc., they for a second time occupied Calvary Presbyterian Church until June, when they removed to the hall. In November, 1871, H. Y. Lazear was elected Superintendent. After the great fire of October 9, 1871, Wabash Avenue M.E. School united with us, and remained one year. January 28, 1872, the present church building having been partially completed, the school occupied for the first time their new and elegant house. Mr. H. Y. Lazear, whose earnest labors were crowned with success, served until October 9, 1874, when the Rev. C. G. Truesdell was called to fill his place. His labors as Superintendent of the Relief Society being so arduous, he resigned June 18, 1875, when L. F. Lindsay was elected to fill his place, who is serving as Superintendent at the present time. The record of the school, previous to 1868, having been destroyed by fire, is not complete. The average attendance since 1868 is as follows: 1869, 207; 1870, 190; 1871, 150; 1872, 249; 1873, 233; 1874; 224; 1875, 307; 1876, 322. The school at present is divided into two departments—Bible and Primary.

HISTORY.

TRINITY METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH was an offshoot of the old First or Clark Street Church, and was organized in 1862. The congregation formed a Sabbath-school in the Calvary Presbyterian Church, and J. W. Waughop and John Hayward were the Superintendents. In 1863 a church building was erected on Indiana avenue and Twenty-first street, which was dedicated April 10, 1864, by Dr. T. M. Eddy. Dr. C. H. Fowler, being pastor of Clark Street, had official oversight of the new society. Christopher Metz, John Hayward and Arnold Bigelow were the first class-leaders. At the session of the Rock River Annual Conference, 1864, Rev. John H. Vincent, now editor of Sabbath-school literature of the church, was regularly appointed pastor. He was succeeded in 1865 by Rev. Wm. Aug. Smith, who in turn was followed, in 1866, by Rev. S. A. W. Jewett. Dr. T. M. Eddy was pastor in the fall and winter of 1868; and in March, 1869, Rev. E. B. Snyder was transferred to the charge from the Pittsburgh Conference. In October, 1869, Rev. Mr. Snyder was again transferred (to the Northwestern Indiana Conference), and the Rev. J. H. Bayliss appointed in his stead. As a result of the great fire of October, 1871, the church edifice of the Wabash Avenue Society was rented to the Government for a postoffice, and their congregation united temporarily with that of Trinity, under the pastoral care of Rev. S. McChesney. In October, 1874, the term of Dr. McChesney having expired, the church was ably supplied by Dr. C. H. Fowler and Rev. W. H. Milburn, until the coming of Rev. O. H. Tiffany, D.D., who entered upon his work April 29, 1875, and continued until March, 1877. Upon the removal of Dr. Tiffany, by transfer to the New York Conference, the church providentially secured the services of Rev. W. F. Crafts of the Providence Conference, who occupied the pulpit until the end of Dr. Tiffany's unexpired year. At the meeting of the Rock River Conference in October, 1877, an unanimous petition of the Official Board of the church, expressing the wishes of the entire membership, was presented to the Bishop and Presiding Elder, requesting that Rev. W. F. Crafts be transferred and returned as the regular pastor of the church, which was granted, and he is therefore the present pastor of Trinity. The church is enjoying a season of spiritual prosperity, being in the midst of a series of revival meetings, in which the pastor is assisted by Phillip Phillips, the distinguished singer. The society is fifteen years old, and has grown from a little mission Sabbath-school to a church of great power and usefulness, in which the faith of believers has been strengthened, and many sinners converted, through the preaching of the Word by earnest and faithful ministers. The present membership is about 375. During the year just closed $1,000 was subscribed and paid the Missionary Society, and $900 for other benevolent collections. The ladies of the society have recently closed a unique series of "Round the World Entertainments," and each department of this well-organized church is steadily and faithfully doing its work.

The project of building a new church was discussed in 1869, but the work began in the summer of 1870, during the pastorship of Rev. J. H. Bayliss, who, with the energy for which he is distinguished, pushed forward the enterprise. The first public and progressive act was the sale in July, 1870, of the property corner of Indiana avenue and Twenty-first street to the Calvary Presbyterian Church, and the purchase of the lot which is the site of the present magnificent place of worship. Ground was broken soon afterward, and the corner stone of the new church laid in November, 1870, at which the exercises were conducted by Bishop Janes. The work was prosecuted actively and without interruption until the great fire of October, 1871, cut off to a great extent the resources of the society, and directed the attention of its members from church-building to the rebuilding of the city and its business. Nevertheless, in January, 1872, the spacious and beautiful lecture-room was dedicate l, and this consecration was followed almost immediately by a sweeping revival of religion in the church under the faithful labors of the Rev. S. McChesney. At a meeting of the society held February 18, 1874, by a vote of 54 to 1, the trustees were requested "o provide the means and proceed to finish the church edifice." After January, 1872, all services were held in the lecture-room until March 12, 1875, when the building, having been completed, the main audience room was dedicated, and appropriate sermons were preache l on the occasion by Bishop Harris, Dr. Bayliss and Dr. Fowler. The design of the church was furnished by Cass Chapman, of Chi ago, and the finished building is a model of architectural skill and beauty. When completed, the cost, including lot, amounted in the aggregate to $142,540. The building committee were John W. Waughop, F. E. Bra lley, Amos Grannis, John E. Wilson, and Albert Danks. To them, as well as the trustees of the church and to Loring Bra lley, should be given a large share of the credit due on account of the signal success of the undertaking. The pure white marble baptismal fount, which stands within the altar railing, was a gift by Hannah M. Eddy, widow of Dr. Thomas M. Eddy, presen ed as a memorial of her deceased husband, the former pastor and devoted friend of this society.

HISTORY.

IN THE FALL OF 1868, REV. S. G. LATHROP, who was at that time Superintendent of the "Sabbath School and Missionary Society of the M.E. Church of Chicago," in company with Rev. S. A. W. Jewett, then pastor of the Trinity M. E. Church, made a tour of inspection through the southern portion of the city, and the northern part of Hyde Park, with reference to the establishment of religious services in connection with the M.E. Church in that field. It seemed to them that there was an open door, and they so reported to the Board of Managers of the above named society. The board directed its Superintendent to proceed to the establishment of such services. The first meeting of members of the M.E. Church residing in the field, and other friends of the enterprise, for consultation, was held at the house of Bro. M. Van Allen, on Cottage Grove avenue, near Waupanseh avenue. At this meeting it was decided to hold public religious services on Sabbath evenings at the house of Bro. Wm. H. Rand, and one week-evening service each week, at such private residences as might be found convenient and agreeable. These services were at once established. This occurred in the month of October, 1868. The social meetings were held at the residences of Brethren Otis, Brown, Copeland, Goodrich, and Swann. The public service was held regularly at the house of Bro. Rand, until the middle of February, 1869, when, the congregation having steadily increased, it was found necessary to secure a larger place, and the public service was transferred to Cleaver Hall, corner of Brooks street and Drexel Boulevard, and morning service, as well as evening, held. On the 7th of March a church organization was effected, consisting of 21 members in full connection and 6 probationers. On the 14th of March two members and one probationer were received, and on the 14th of April eight members and one probationer, making at that date a total membership of 31 in full connection, and seven probationers. All these probationers were, in due time, received into the church in full connection. The organization took the name of the Oakland M.E. Church. On the 14th of March, a Sabbath School in connection with the church, was organized. W. H. Rand was elected its Superintendent, Robert Thacker, Secretary, John H. Trumbull, Librarian, and Lyman Trumbull, Assistant Librarian. The first baptism was that of Charles O. Rider, infant son of Wm. F. and Clara Rider, on April 4, 1869, by Rev. S. G. Lathrop. The first class-leaders appointed by Rev. S. G. Lathrop were Asahel Otis and Alfred Harvey, April 11, 1869. The first quarterly conference was held April 27, 1869, by Rev. Hooper Crews, P. E. of the Chicago District. At this conference, A. F. Brown, James N. Thacker, John Nourse, Aaron J. Goodrich and J. Ramsey Flood were elected Stewards. Rev. S. G. Lathrop, having been appointed Superintendent of Methodist Missions in Montana Territory, resigned his work in connection with the Sabbath School and Missionary Society of the M.E. Church of Chicago, his resignation taking effect May 1, 1869. At this date the Rev. C. E. Mandeville, of Connecticut, was appointed by the presiding elder to the pastorate of this church. Mr. Mandeville entered at once upon his work, preaching his first sermon on the first Sabbath morning of May, from the text "Receive Us," and his last on the evening of October 8, 1871, from the text "Amen." This evening will ever be memorable in the history of Chicago as the evening of the commencement of the great fire. The first communion service occurred July 29, 1869. At the quarterly conference, held July 28, a legal organization of the church was effected, and W. H. Rand, A. F. Brown, T. G. Otis, T. Priest, and C. DeWolf were elected Trustees. The first death that occurred was that of Sister Mary Swann, October 9, 1869. In the spring of 1870, the church lots, on the corner of Langley avenue and Thirty-ninth street, were purchased for the sum of $10,000. This sum was subsequently paid by the Board of Trustees of the First M.E. Church. February 24, 1871, the first load of lumber was delivered on the church lots, and on the morning of the 25th the first blow was struck toward the erection of the church building. This work was completed in the following August, and on the 6th day of August the dedicatory services were held with rejoicing—Rev. Drs. Reid, Fowler, and Haven preaching on the occasion. The debt at this time was $5,500, all of which was subscribed. The church is two stories, the first floor divided into a most beautiful lecture room, two class-rooms, Sabbath School library room, and pastor's study. The main Auditorium is reached by two flights of winding stairs. The capacity of the audience room is about 500. A beautiful rose window in the center of the front, with one arched on either side, also six arched windows on either side of stained glass furnish the light of day, and three large chandeliers the light for evening. The audience room is beautifully frescoed and has an alcove back of the pulpit for the organ and choir. The church both down stairs and up is handsomely furnished, the floors being carpeted and the seats cushioned. The total cost of the building and furnishings was $12,000. The great fire, together with the panic which so soon succeeded it, crippled the members of the church, and friends of the enterprise, so that a portion of the subscriptions made upon the day of dedication has never been collected.

Notwithstanding this failure in making collections, the church has been able to meet its obligations, leaving at this time an indebtedness not exceeding $2,000—$400 of which has been recently incurred for repairs. Rev. C. G. Truesdell was appointed at the conference of 1871 as Mr. Mandeville's successor. He entered upon his work in the midst of the excitement of the fire, and was immediately sent abroad by the Methodist Church of the city to solicit aid for the fire sufferers. Of the amount raised by him in Iowa, $500 was appropriated to this church to assist in putting in heaters, etc. Much of Mr. Truesdell's time was taken up in the relief work, until in June, 1872, when he was elected Superintendent of the Relief Society. From that time until the conference of 1872, he continued to serve the church as its pastor, but generously remitted his salary. Rev. J. F. Yates succeeded Mr. Truesdell. He remained but one year. At the conference of 1873, Rev. Lewis Meredith was appointed to the pastorate. He remained two years. At the conference of 1874 he reported 152 members, 3 probationers, 90 scholars, and 21 officers and teachers in the Sabbath School. At the conference of 1875 he reported: members, 164; probationers, 8; Sabbath School scholars, 95; teachers and officers, 21. In 1875, W. C. Willing, D.D., succeeded Mr. Meredith, and he also remained two years. Dr. Willing was appointed P. E. of the Chicago District at this conference, and the Rev. T. C. Clendening succeeded him in the pastorate. The encouragement which has thus far attended his ministry gives promise that his record will be creditable to himself and to his fellow-laborers in the good work. In 1869, at the appointment of Mr. Mandeville, the charge was known as ST. JOHN'S, and continued to be so known until at the appointment of Mr. Truesdell in 1872, its original name of OAKLAND appears again. It was known by this name until 1875. At the appointment of Dr. Willing its present name of LANGLEY AVENUE appears.

THE PERFECTION

HEALTH LIFT

173 Randolph Street, Chicago.

It is Cheap, Durable, and does not get out of order. Physicians who have given attention to the Health Lift System unhesitatingly endorse and recommend it. Professional men and others of sedentary habits have found lasting benefit from the use of the Health Lift. The Health Lift equalizes the circulation of the blood. The Health Lift promotes nutrition. The Health Lift strengthens the action of the heart, and increases the lung capacity. The Health Lift allays nervous excitement, reduces the pulse, and renders the respiration deeper, better and slower.

HISTORY.

IN THE YEAR 1847 the Methodist Episcopal Church in Chicago was represented by the Clark Street Church, now known as the First Church, and the Canal Street Church. Clark Street Church was in the full tide of religious prosperity, having a large and liberal congregation, whose "praise was in all the churches," and having recently entered into possession of the most elegant and commodious church edifice in the city, they were ready for every good word and work. The Canal Street Society (now Centenary) occupying a long, low frame building on Canal street, near Randolph street, were noted for their zeal and fervor, and were actively employed in church work. A number of brethren, most of whom were residents of the North Side during the spring and summer of this year, determined to organize a society in this division of the city. A meeting was accordingly held at the residence of the late Hon. Geo. F. Foster, corner of Clark and Kinzie streets (now the site of McCormick Hall). At this meeting, the Rev. James Mitchell, then Presiding Elder, was elected chairman, and Andrew J. Brown, Esq., Secretary. An election for trustees was held, and George F. Foster, A. J. Brown, Jeremy Hixon, John W. Senser, Charles Sweet, and C. H. P. Lyman were chosen. It was resolved to lease two lots on the south side of Indiana street, between Clark and Dearborn streets; to solicit funds and commence immediately the erection of a church. The title of "The Methodist Episcopal Society of Indiana Street Chapel" was adopted. A neat frame structure, about 36x45 feet, was commenced, and was finished about Thanksgiving time, at a cost of some $1,200. In the meantime the authorities of the church had been requested to appoint a preacher, and at the conference session of 1847 the Rev. Freeborn Haney was designated as pastor of the new church. At the dedication the Rev. James Mitchell preached an eloquent sermon, and the society, numbering about forty, most of whom had been members of the Clark Street Church, commenced their work under favorable auspicies. Friends assisted in providing funds necessary to discharge the obligations incurred in the enterprise, and, encouraged by the successful start they had received, full of zeal in the good cause and of faith in their future, the brethren commenced a series of meetings and continued them a long time; and, as a reward for their faithful work, received a comparatively large accession to their number. Of the names enrolled on the original list of members, but one now appears on the register of Grace Church; some known to the writer have removed to other fields; others, doubtless, still survive; but most, probably, have "fallen asleep." Of the original members of the Sunday School, organized immediately upon the completion of the church, Mrs. Geo. B. Dunham is believed to be the only representative remaining in the society. The earliest meetings of the society were characterized by great length and fervor, and if the church at present is moderate in the expression of their feelings, it is not because their fathers had thus taught them. Many of these were very demonstrative in their exercises. Indeed a scoffing neighbor protested that returning home nights he always heard some of the brethren upon reaching Clark street bridge, and a friend asserted that he could not study his lessons evenings, because of the noise customary at the meetings,—these undoubtedly were exaggerations. In the space alloted to this chronicle, brief mention must be made of following events. In 1848 Rev. John F. Devore, now in Oregon, was appointed pastor, and in 1849, the Rev. Zadoc Hall, now of the Central Illinois Conference, followed him. During Brother Hall's pastorate, payments were made upon the lots which had been bought, and a small brick parsonage was built. In 1850, the Rev. Boyd Lowe was sent to succeed Mr. Hall, and at a meeting held in the church, our Brother Dunham was converted, and has since remained continuously a member. The Rev. John W. Agard was appointed pastor in 1851, and remained one year. Each of the preachers, it will be observed down to this date, served the church but one year. At the annual conference of 1852 the Rev. Sias Bolles was appointed pastor, and served faithfully for two full years. During this pastorate the capacity of the church building was nearly doubled by an addition to the rear, extending back to the alley, making the building about 36x80 feet; this added nothing to its beauty or symmetry. In the year 1854 the Rev. Thomas Williams followed Bro. Bolles and remained three years, the Presiding Bishop suspending, or ignoring the two-years rule, then limiting the pastoral term, for the reason that some of the members had informed him that the society was about to erect a new church, and that the return of Mr. Williams was necessary for the accomplishment of that purpose. A vague hope had been entertained by the more ambitious members that a new and imposing church building would be erected; that, in fact, such a building was essential. The old building, cheaply built of wood, was exceedingly uncomfortable, it being impossible to heat properly in winter, and the sun lying on the low roof, made it intolerable in summer. The society, however, had no resources adequate to the realization of their ideal, and ought not to have moved in the matter of enlargement until their means had been greatly increased. The agitation for new accommodations increasing, intensified greatly by the allegation that the preacher had been sent for this specific work, the trustees fully realizing that the site on Indiana street was unsuitable for a permanent church home, contracted for the purchase in the spring of 1857 of a lot on the southeast corner of Erie and Wolcott (now State) streets. This movement, as will be seen, was disastrous to the society, but it undoubtedly prevented what would have been a great deal worse, namely, the premature commencement of a new building on the old lot, plans and specifications for which had been prepared, and a pressure put upon the trustees by a number of class-leaders, stewards, and others temporarily resident, to begin a work which they had not ability to accomplish, and in a manifestly improper place.

In the summer of 1857 the Rev. S. G. Lathrop was appointed pastor and entered upon his work with great energy. Scarcely had he begun, however, when the great financial panic seized the people. Pressure, depression, and distress became general. Nearly all the members of the church were prostrated financially. Quite a number of the members prior to this time had removed to Evanston, arranging, however, to pay their proportion of the cost of the new lot. These all went down in the storm, and the ability of the society to pay largely decreased. The trustees soon began to fear that they would not be able to meet the engagements they had entered into—and this apprehension was by no means groundless, for when upon the maturity of an installment due on the lot recently contracted for, payment was demanded, there were no funds, current expenses, reduced by the strictest economy, absorbing all resources. The trustees were now obliged to mortgage the Indiana street lot as additional security for the sums due upon the new one, and as was clearly foreseen, the result of this was (to anticipate a little) that both lots were sacrificed to satisfy these claims, having nothing but the equity of redemption, should there be any. The society determined to pay their debts as long as they had anything to pay with, and pledged their whole property for this purpose. The final outcome was that the lots were sold by the mortgagees, the full claims against the society were paid, with interest and costs, and $1,087.85 was paid into the church treasury. Brother Lathrop served the church faithfully for two years, and several who joined it under his ministry remain as active members to the present time. A change in the pastorate again occurred in 1859. Brother Lathrop's time having been reached, and in the year 1861 the church received thankfully the appointment of Rev. Dr. L. H. Bugbee as pastor. The society, having been a tenant at will of the mortgagee for a long time, realized the necessity of making provision for the future, at the same time realizing their inability to accomplish so great a work as the providing of a church and lot. Having lost all but honor they were determined to retain that. Recovery from the effects of the panic was slow and the wrecks that had strewn its course were numerous. All these considerations combined to make men cautious and run no risks. After much deliberation, a plan, and the only one that seemed feasible, was suggested by the pastor for raising money to purchase a lot, and was heartily adopted. It was, in brief, for the members of the congregation to subscribe as much as they would, payable monthly to such ladies of the church as would engage in the work, and, in addition, solicit from friends and the public donations and subscriptions. In furtherance of this object a society was organized under the name of the "Ladies' Church Aid Society." About twenty ladies accepted subscription books and engaged with great assiduity in the work, many of them for three and four years. Funds immediately began to accumulate, and soon, at the request of the society, the lots on the northwest corner of Chicago avenue and LaSalle street were purchased. The total cost of these lots was $9,339.39. Of this amount, the sum saved from the equity in the Indiana street lot, $1,087.85, was paid by the church, and the entire balance, amounting to $8,251.54, was collected by the ladies of this society so regularly and promptly that the payments due upon the purchase money were made at maturity. It is not too much to say that these ladies by their unswerving devotion to Christ's cause laid the foundation for whatever of success our church has since achieved.

On the 8th of June, 1863, a meeting was held at which Grace Church Society was organized. The ladies present at the meeting were appointed a committee to propose a name, and reported in favor of adopting the title of "Grace Methodist Episcopal Church." This report was unanimously adopted. The meeting then elected Abner R. Scranton Andrew J. Brown, Oliver S. Goss, Alfred L. Sewell, Alfred L. Scranton, W. P. Moss, Jr., and P. N. Gould as trustees, and directed them to obtain titles to the new lots and procure plans for a chapel building, to be erected on the north end of the LaSalle street front. These directions were obeyed, and about the time of conference, Dr. Bugbee laid the corner-stone of the chapel, which was well advanced toward completion by the end of the season. Dr. Bugbee was succeeded by Rev. J. C. Stoughton as pastor in the fall of 1863. During the winter and succeeding spring the chapel was finished, and upon the 3d day of July, 1864, was dedicated by Bishop Simpson, who preached in the morning and dedicated the building. Drs. Tiffany and Eddy preached afternoon and evening. Ten thousand dollars was subscribed at these meetings, and all bills for construction and furnishing were thus provided for. At the ensuing conference, October, 1864, the Rev. Dr. Tiffany was appointed pastor, and under his ministry a large addition to the membership was secured—chiefly by conversions—most of them the fruit of a gracious revival, sent by the Master, in answer to the faith and patient labors of the pastor and his flock. Many of these, prominent in the church, remain to the present time, and are among the foremost in bearing the burdens and sustaining the work of the church. The congregation having increased to the capacity of the chapel building, it was deemed necessary to commence the main building, and in the fall of 1866 the foundations were put in. During the succeeding season the superstructure was erected, and the following spring the church was completed, excepting tower and spire. Dr. Tiffany's time having expired, the Rev. A. J. Jutkins was appointed to succeed him, October, 1867. The following summer the new church, having been finished and furnished, was dedicated. Drs. Hatfield, Fowler and Tiffany officiating, morning, afternoon, and evening, in the order named. The report of the treasurer at that time showed that about $37,000 was necessary to pay the indebtedness of the trustees, and this large sum was subscribed to the great joy of its friends, who had with sublime faith long looked for this happy consummation of their desires. In the realization of material and spiritual prosperity following the years of effort, which have been but hinted at, the congregation contentedly enjoyed the ministrations of Dr. Jutkins and of Brother Parkhurst, who followed him in the fall of 1870. During these years there were constant accessions to the church by profession of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and it almost seemed that we were, as a church, nearing the apostolic condition, when the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved. In the midst of this blessed fruition, unconscious of danger, sudden and dire disaster came upon us. In the fatal month of October, 1871, the flames wrapped our stately church in their dread embrace, and in a few hours our house of prayer, consecrated by years of sacrifice, was laid low—nothing but a mass of ruins left to mark the place it had adorned. "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall" Never was the insecurity of all human things more strongly exemplified. As a church we were suddenly reduced from affluence to want. Little time, however, was wasted in lamentations over our destitution. Scarcely had the shock caused by this appalling calamity subsided when stout hearts were enlisted in the work of rehabitation. Our indefatigable pastor, eminently the right man in the right place, with a fidelity and heroism beyond praise, sought out and gathered his flock. The first Sunday after the fire a goodly number of the widely-separated brethren convened upon the ruins, were strengthened and cheered by the brave words and courageous spirit of the pastor, and, with one accord, resolved to stand by the old ship and bring her once again into safe harbor. On Sunday afternoon, Nov. 5, 1871, a meeting was held on the chapel ruins, at which the pastor and a majority of the trustees and stewards were present. It was then and there resolved that immediate steps be taken to build a temporary structure, and on December 3, twenty-eight days thereafter, and less than sixty days after the fire, divine service was celebrated in the new edifice; regularly thereafter the services were continued. During the winter it was resolved to sell the church site, it having become comparatively inconvenient, and the present site of this building was purchased. In June, 1872, the plans for the structure we now occupy were prepared by Messrs. Burling & Adler, and adopted by the society. Work was at once commenced, and in May, 1873, the outside of the building, excepting the front, was completed—the trustees deeming it wiser to submit to the annoyance of a boarded-up front than to run heavily in debt. The basement was finished, furnished, and opened, the money necessary to pay balances due for construction and furnishing, $8,000, was as usual promptly provided and once again the congregation was provided with comfortable accommodations. At this third dedication Bishop Foster officiated, assisted by Drs. Fowler, Tiffany and many others. At the conference of 1873 the Rev. Dr. Felton was made pastor. His work is known too well to require our attention. During the last year he was with us the subject of finishing the front was considered, and at one time a generous subscription was made for the work. The brethren deeming the time had not fully arrived for the work, the project was not pushed to completion. In 1875, Rev. John Atkinson succeeded Dr. Felton. Exhaustive reports of his doings and success have but recently been placed before you. During the latter part of 1876 a subscription—liberal in the extreme—was made for completing the church, and the work was commenced. We now have the privilege of assembling in our new church, finished and complete, for which let us be devoutly thankful. It only remains for us to express the thanks due the friends and patrons of our society, who have with unparalleled generosity given freely the means essential for completing our great work; especially would we remember the munificent grants made by the trustees of the Clark Street Church. Let us not forget these friends, but cherish in our hearts the warmest gratitude to them and to God, who raised them up for us. Of the causes which have contributed to our success, next to God's blessing, we put as chief, the unity of the brethren; without a discord they have harmoniously worked for one great purpose; standing shoulder to shoulder, seeing eye to eye, they have pushed forward the work, and to-day we celebrate the achievement of our long-cherished object, the free-will offering of our completed temple to Almighty God.

Summary of cost of church corner of Chicago avenue and LaSalle street:

The lots on Chicago avenue and LaSalle street cost	$ 9,339.39

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

IN 1842, SIXTEEN members of the Clark Street M.E. Church, organized the Canal Street M.E. Church. After a few years the growth of the church made the little wooden edifice too small for them, and in 1853 the society again built and removed to Jefferson Street. The encroachments of business induced the society in 1866-7 to build in a more eligible location the present edifice. The lecture room was dedicated February 17, 1867, and the building fully completed during the following year. In 1846 Rev. Silas M. Bolles was appointed pastor at the Canal Street Church; was succeeded in 1848 by Rev. M. Blanchard; in 1850 by Rev. —— Palmer, who died during his pastorate; in 1852 Rev. James Wilson became pastor of this society, which soon removed to the Jefferson Street Church. He was succeeded by the following pastors: 1854, Rev. E. H. Gammon; 1855, Rev. J. F. Chaffee; 1856, Rev. R. J. White; 1859, Rev. W. W. McKaig; 1860, Rev. T. M. Eddy, D.D., and Rev. F. Hemingway; 1861 Rev. C. H. Fowler; 1863, Rev. Rob't Bentley; 1864, Rev. Chas. Shelling; 1865, Unsupplied. CENTENARY CHURCH—1866, Rev. C. H. Fowler; 1868, Rev. R. M. Hatfield, D.D.; 1871, Rev. Chas. H. Fowler, D.D.; 1873, Rev. J. O. Peck, D.D.; 1875, Rev. S. H. Adams; 1877, Rev. H. W. Thomas, D.D.

HISTORY.

IN THE FALL OF 1851 a Sabbath School was organized in a school room on North Green street, and Samuel Polkey became the Superintendent. In 1852 a church was organized, and lots were purchased upon the corner of Sangamon and Owen streets. In the fall of 1853, the church received its first pastor, appointed by the conference, Rev. S. Guyon, who remained two years, and was succeeded in 1855 by Rev. C. French. The next year Rev. William Tasker was appointed to the church. In 1857 the church secured the services of Rev. Arza Brown, who remained during the ensuing three years. The name of the church was changed, as was that of the street, in 1860, and was thereafter known as the Indiana Street Methodist Episcopal Church, until it was removed from that locality. In 1860 Rev. Jacob Hartman was appointed to the church. Rev. D. W. Couch supplied the ensuing year. In 1863 Rev. W. D. Skelton became the pastor, and remained three years. During his term of service the old church gave place to a larger and more convenient one, now occupying the same site and used by the Norwegian Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. Robert Bently was appointed to the charge in 1866, and was followed in 1868 by Rev. J. Hartwell. In 1869 Rev. W. F. Stewart was appointed to the church. During his pastorate the church building was sold to the society now occupying it, and our present church upon Ada street was erected. Since that time the church has been known by its present name. Rev. T. R. Strobridge entered upon the pastorate of the church in 1870, and was followed in 1873 by Rev. W. C. Dandy, who in 1874 gave place to Rev. J. L. G. McKeown. In October, 1875, the present pastor received his appointment to this work. We have made no comments upon the work of any of our predecessors. We are not sufficiently familiar with the history of the church to give an accurate account of its progress from year to year, and were we to do so it might seem to be making invidious distinctions among brethren equally devoted to their work. We have no doubt all these men have earnestly labored for the upbuilding of the church and the glory of God. Some have been more favored by circumstances, and have seen more apparent fruits, but in the last day we trust all will receive the "well done" of the Master. Suffice it to say, that in spite of many serious obstacles, the care and sacrifice incident to the erection of three church buildings, the resulting debts, the unpleasantness engendered by removal from the original site, the embarrassments occasioned by the financial panic which immediately succeeded the completion of our church edifice, and other and even more serious hindrances, the church has gone on working for the good of souls and the glory of God, and is now a most peaceful and prosperous religious organization, with more than three hundred members harmoniously and efficiently co-operating in every good work. Its recent rapid growth is apparent from the fact that nearly two-thirds of the present membership and three-fourths of the Sabbath School have been added during the past year and a half. We are now, in addition to the public Sabbath services and Sabbath School, regularly sustaining two church prayer meetings and seven classes. We have an efficient organization of "Christian Workers" among our young men, a Ladies'

Aid Society, a Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, an Industrial Society and School. All these organizations are vital and efficient. The prospect before Ada Street Church was never brighter. We have well grounded reasons for expecting this to become one of the most powerful religious organizations in the city. We intend by a firm but kind administration of discipline to keep a faithful membership and accurate church records. The earnest piety of our members, the peace prevailing within our borders, the earnestness with which our members are working, the constant additions to our numbers, the attendance upon the services of our church, the increasing surrounding population and the evident favor of God, all justify our most sanguine expectations. May God help us properly to use our opportunities and cultivate his vineyard! During the past few months provision has been made for the payment of the entire debt of the church, so that when this is in the hands of the readers, it is confidently expected Ada Street Church will be free from financial incumbrance.

HISTORY.

COMMENCING IN THE YEAR 1858, a few Methodist families, principally those of John Skelton, John Scribner, Wm. Dockrell, and Charles Radcliff, living west of Union Park, commenced holding weekly prayer-meetings. First at the house of John Skelton, 36 Smith street, and afterward at John Scribner's, corner of Lincoln and Fulton streets, and finally at William Dockrell's, on the corner of Park avenue and Robey street. These meetings were continued nearly two years, when the City Mission Society arranged for preaching on the afternoon of each Sabbath. The increasing attendance upon these meetings soon made a larger room a necessity. To meet this want, the Church Extension Society purchased a lot on the northeast corner of Park Avenue and Robey street, and the society, under the direction of Wm. F. Stewart, then City Missionary, erected a building thereon, 24x44 feet, which was finished and dedicated by Bishop Simpson in the spring of 1861, and the society then took the name of the Park Avenue Mission. The principal members now were Samuel Springer, Miss Etta Springer, John Wigram, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Moss, J. C. Henderson, Mrs. Henrietta Brown, Mrs. Sandy, John Freeman, Charles Cline, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gage, J. N. Cutler, J. F. Eberhart, and Philip Plant. A Sabbath School, with Albert Lane as Superintendent, was soon after started in connection with the society. Increasing numbers soon made the building too small, and in the fall of 1862 an addition of 24 feet was made to it. Rev. Brother Chadwick was then in charge of the society as City Missionary, having been appointed to this work in 1861. Henry Whipple succeeded Brother Chadwick in 1863, and the society, having largely increased in numbers, decided to build a church more commodious and better suited to its needs; and for this purpose Bishop Hamline leased to the society 85 feet of ground on the southeast corner of Park avenue and Robey street, for a term of 99 years, without rent for the first ten years, the society afterward to pay one hundred dollars a year to the American Bible Society as rent for the ground. The church was built at a cost of about $10,000, and dedicated in the year 1865, and became the Park Avenue M.E. Church. After Rev. Henry Whipple, Rev. Messrs. Hitchcock and Hardin supplied the pulpit until the fall of 1866, when Rev. J. H. Bayliss was sent to the church by the conference as its first regular pastor. He remained with the church for three years. During his administration the church was greatly prospered, large additions being made to its members, and the church property improved by building a parsonage, putting an addition to the church, purchasing an organ, etc., at a total cost of about $10,000. About the year 1867 the church started a mission Sabbath School on Seymour street, near Lake, from which originated the present churches of Western Avenue and Fulton Street. Dr. W. H. Thomas followed Dr. Bayliss in 1867, and remained with the church three years—covering the time of the great fire, in which many members of the church met with large losses. The church building was placed in the hands of the Relief Society immediately after the fire, and was used by them till permanent arrangements were made for the relief of the destitute. Rev. W. H. Daniels followed Dr. Thomas in 1872. In consequence of ill-health he resigned the pastorate in the summer of 1874. In the following autumn Rev. N. H. Axtell was appointed to the pastorate, who continued in charge two years. In October, 1876, Rev. S. McChesney, the present pastor, was returned from Minnesota to the Rock River Conference, and appointed to the charge. Since which time the congregations have greatly increased, and there have been also very large accessions to the membership. Having a field in some respects unrivaled in the Methodism of the city, Park Avenue M. E. Church anticipates a happy and glorious future.

HISTORY.

IN 1866 the Central Park Mission Sunday School, under the auspices of Park Avenue M.E. Church, was organized, near the corner of Lake and Seymour streets, John Freeman, Esq., being appointed its Superintendent. He was succeeded in 1869 by B. W. Ellis. In the fall of 1870 preaching services began to be sustained in the growing neighborhood. Joseph W. Sparling, then a student of the Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston, and now a prominent minister of the Wesleyan Conference in Canada, supplied the pulpit from October, 1870, to June of 1871, at which time Rev. A. W. Patten, then a student, and now Pastor of Wabash Avenue M.E. Church of this city, succeeded him until Conference of 1871, at which time the Church Register stood as follows: Trustees—John Freeman, J. L. Campbell, Walter Tett, Chas. B. Bingham, Chas. G. Lowry, Jos. W. Burdick, Simon Andrus. Stewards—J. B. Cochran, Albert Rutherford, Wesley A. Hammond, Richard Oates, John Freeman, Wilbur Earl, W. W. Watson. In the fall of 1871, Rev. Alexander Youker, then of Halsted Street Mission, and now of the Tabernacle Congregational Church, of this city, was sent to Western Avenue. Early in his pastorate a change of location for the church was deemed advisable, which, with some friction and a division of the society, was accomplished. The building in which the society worshiped was moved to the present location—corner Monroe Street and Western Avenue—which was donated by that munificent Mother of Chicago Methodism, the Clark Street M.E. Church. The disaffected portion of the society leased a lot on the corner of Fulton Street and Artesian Avenue, and erected a neat chapel. The pastorate of Rev. Mr. Youker continued through three prosperous years—years of financial prosperity to the city, and years of revival to the church. During 1873, Jackson Street Mission was organized in connection with our church, for the accommodation of the children west of the Great Eastern Railroad track, under the auspices of H. W. Matthews, Samuel Cload, Brothers Henderson, Steer, Coumbe, Foote, and others. During this pastorate the church was enlarged by the addition of wings, which, while they added to the seating capacity of the church, making it to accommodate four hundred and fifty persons. made a structure of a school of architecture not yet classified. This was accomplished at an expense of thirty-five hundred dollars. In October, 1874, Rev. R. D. Shepard, then of the Third Street M.E. Church of Rockford, Ill., was stationed at Western Avenue, and continued until September, 1877, when he left for a tour in Europe. His pastorate was greatly blessed to the church. One hundred and seventy-two uniting either by letter or on probation during the three years, of whom one hundred and twenty-three remain at this date (December, 1877) as resident members. The society now numbers 283 resident members, and 45 non-resident. The church lot, fronting 127 feet on Western Avenue, and cornering on Monroe, is unencumbered by debt. The church is located in an important and growing residence portion of the city, and with a vigorous youth looks hopefully to a future of great usefulness and growth. In October, 1877, Rev. S. H. Adams, formerly of Centenary Church, Chicago, was appointed as pastor of the Western Avenue society, and has commenced his labors with results which are already encouraging.

HISTORY.

A SABBATH SCHOOL, known as the "Central Park Mission," was organized in February, 1872, and held its sessions in a hall on Artesian avenue, north of Fulton street. As the school increased in influence and power, a student from Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, was engaged to preach to them. The congregations gathered there were small. Still the brethren persevered, and God honored their labors. Rev. John Varty was prominent among the young men thus serving. In October the school moved into Good Templars' Hall, on Lake street, near Seymour. At the Rock River Conference, then in session at Rockford, the Rev. G. L. S. Stuff was appointed pastor. October 31, the Lake Street M.E. Church was organized with 36 members, and worshiped in Good Templars' Hall for one year. In June, 1873, the people began to believe a chapel of their own would add to their success. A meeting was called, measures adopted, and a subscription of $2,225 was obtained. A Building Committee was appointed, consisting of W. R. Mumford, J. C. Boddy, Wm. Pugh, C. D. Ramsey, and Geo. W. Moss. A lot on the corner of Fulton street and Artesian avenue was leased for five years, and the name of the society changed to the Fulton Street M.E. Church. Work on the church edifice began August 9, 1873, under the superintendence of J. C. Boddy, and was completed in October at a cost of about $4,000, and November 2, 1873, was dedicated to the worship of God. The conference of 1873, held at Mendota, returned Brother Stuff as pastor, and at the end of his second year the society numbered 63 members and 10 probationers. October 13, 1874, the Rev. R. S. Cantine was appointed to the pastorate. Under his labors the congregation improved; the Sabbath School prospered, and many were added to the church. Brother Cantine was returned a second year, at the earnest request of the church. Though pressed by the great financial panic of this year, the society continued to prosper, and good work was done for the Master. At the close of his second year, Brother Cantine reported 150 full members and five probationers. October 18, 1876, Rev. S. M. Davis succeeded to the pastorate, and, though during the year his health became greatly impaired, he labored earnestly and successfully as a true minister of Christ. During a part of the summer of this year, Brother Davis was ably supplied by E. B. Lonsbury. At the close of the year the records called for 151 full members, and 26 probationers. In October the services were suspended for two weeks, and the auditorium neatly frescoed, and the entire building thoroughly repaired. In all these labors the Ladies Aid Society rendered valuable assistance. October 16, 1877, Rev. Wm. H. Holmes became pastor. Every department of the church now augurs only prosperity. The marvelous success and unusual blessings, God has made this society the participants in, and the recipients of, places added responsibility on each member. It is expected that each one will do his and her whole duty in a spirit of self-sacrifice and devotion, that this year may be more marked than any previous one by aggressive work for the Master.

HISTORY.

WHAT is now Halsted Street M.E. Church was really commenced as early as 1863, when there was visiting from house to house; the holding of Cottage prayer meetings, and in the summer, open-air meetings, by members of Bridgeport (now Simpson) M.E. Church, assisted by students from the Biblical School at Evanston. Then only a few families lived in the present territory worked by Halsted Street Church—which contains a population of about 20,000 to 25,000 persons. These meetings continued until August, 1866, when a Sabbath School was organized, and a hall rented for its accommodation on the corner of Halsted and Twenty-second streets. At its organization, several members of Bridgeport M.E. Church were present, also the pastor, Rev. E. S. Todd, who subsequently went as missionary to China. The school soon increased to an average of 400. It continued in the hall until the fall of 1867, when was completed a chapel, the building of which was superintended by Rev. S. G. Lathrop, then City Missionary. In 1869 a large addition was made to the chapel, which met the wants of the neighborhood until the fall of 1875, when the present building was commenced by the ten trustees named above—nine of whom assumed personal liability. The ninety-seven feet of ground, which was purchased in 1867, is entirely covered with the building, in which are four stores, several offices, a hall and an audience room on the second floor of sufficient size to seat 1000 persons, and so constructed that, by means of sliding doors, it can be divided into thirteen compartments for Sabbath school purposes, etc. The rent of the stores, offices, and hall provides for the interest, insurance, repairs, etc., and leaves a small amount to apply on the building debt. After the debt is paid the income wi l be used in the Lord's work in the crowded portions of the city. The church society is out of debt, except for current expenses. During the construction of the building they worshiped in the old building and in a store, corner of Halste l and Evans streets. At this date, January, 1878, the congregation averages about 150 to 200 in the morning, an l 300 to 400 in the evening, and the Sabbath school about 600, with a membership of over 800. The pastors have been Rev. S. G. Lathrop, Thos. Craven—now in India preaching the gospel—Rev. A. Youker, Rev. Samuel Paine, Rev. S. Washburn, Rev. H. Hill, and the present pastor. Charles Cook, now missionary to the Indians in Arizona, did valuable work by way of visitation, cottage meetings, children's meetings, etc., and was the instrument in leading many to Christ. The above is only a brief history of the work. All that has been done that has been of real value has been by the great Head of the Church through his consecrated people. To Him be all the glory, with a prayer that we may all receive a greater baptism of the Holy Spirit for service, and that the result of future work may be the salvation of many.

BRIGHTON M.E. CHURCH,

Thirty-Sixth Street, Eighth of a Mile West of Western Avenue.

PASTOR:
REV. THOMAS C. MATLACK. Residence: 225 Campbell Avenue.

HISTORY.

THIS church society was organized the latter part of July, 1872. The first service was held in front of the residence of Mrs. Wilson, on Western avenue, corner of Thirty-fifth street. The following week the society obtained the use of the upper room of the Brighton public school building, where services where held for some months, at 4 P.M., under the charge of Rev. Henry Hill, then filling an appointment at Simpson M.E. Church—he kindly consenting to come up to preach for this society previous to service in his own church in the evening. He was followed by several transient preachers, until the spring of 1873, when Rev. Brother Wakeman, a local preacher, then living in Chicago, supplied the pulpit until the fall of the same year. During Brother Wakeman's administration the present church edifice was erected at a cost of about $2,500. After this time the pulpit was supplied successively by Rev. Brothers Cowan, Carr, and Herrick (local preachers, and students at the Theological Institute at Evanston), until the present conference year. During the present conference year of 1877-78, the services are in charge of the Rev. Thos. C. Matlack (local preacher), formerly of the Western Avenue M.E. Church. Preaching services are held morning and evening, and Sabbath School in the afternoon. The church building is all paid for, but the people are laboring under a very heavy burden in the shape of an encumbrance of $2,000 on the church lots. The Sabbath School has an average attendance of about thirty.
